General Comment

I do not feel this proposed rule accomplishes your goal of protecting investors. Please do not restrict my ability to trade options in my account. It actually limits my choices. While I realize not everyone has educated themselves on the perils of investing and can make harmful decisions, it is not fair/just to restrict everyone. A better solution is education by the employer and the govt, not blank restriction. I have grown my account significantly doing this and don't want to lose my right/ability to do so. If it was a big issue, then it would have been addressed in the first 5 years of IRAs but it has not. Is is over reaching. Thank you for the consideration.
